

CICC
April 5, 1:30pm-2:50pm
Meeting Minutes

In Attendance: Michael Smith, Paula Rainey, Enzo Whetton, Forrest Link, Jonathan Davis, Judit Kardos, Filip Maziarz, Atsuko Seto

1. Unanimously approved March 1st meeting
2. Staff representative: Paula will follow up with the governance to obtain the name of the new staff representative for CICC.
3. Discuss proposal and budget
 - a. The proposal submitted by Patricia Becker ($ 900) has been approved.
 - b. Discussed an inquiry from a student, Angie Tamayo Leon, asking if CICC still has funds to support additional proposals for this academic year. CICC has approximately $2,000 remaining to support additional proposals.
4. Finalize Book for 2024
 - a. Reviewed the three books for 2024. CICC selected Saving Us as the book for 2024.

Clean Air
Saving Us
Blindspot
 - b. Discussed the importance of selecting a book that addresses Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) issues. CICC members unanimously agreed that the Council will select a book that is related to DEI, oppression, social justice, and/or anti-racism. Members will start gathering books that address these topics for 2025. The book, Whistling Vivaldi, will be added to the list of potential books for 2025.
5. Finalize SRP 2023 Student assignment. Brainstorming for types of questions related to The Book of Unknown Americans
 - a. Generated prompt questions for the student assignment. Themes included family dynamics, the American Dream, and Who is known or unknown.
 - b. Discussed ideas for CANVAS page including posting a recorded talk by Cristina Henriquez, an interview with Manuel Figueroa, and a collection of stories of TCNJ community members who are willing to share their unknown or misknown identities.

Meeting adjourned at 2:50pm

Respectfully submitted by Atsuko Seto