

MEMORANDUM

To: Committee on Academic Program (CAP)

From: Steering Committee

Date: September 17, 2025

Re: Probation, Dismissal, and Academic Standing

Background: Heba Jahama, Director of the Office of Records and Registration, requests that Steering charge the appropriate governance committee to review the proposed changes to the "Probation, Dismissal, and Academic Standing" policy. As part of this review, and at the request of the Provost in 2023, a working group examined the Academic Dismissal policy and procedure, resulting in this report.

Charge: Steering asks CAP to review the proposed changes to the Probation, Dismissal, and Academic Standing policy. These proposed changes are included in a redlined version of the policy. Specifically, per the report's recommendation (#4), the new policy eliminates Winter dismissals, due to the burdensome timeline for students to prepare their appeal materials. CAP should review this change, as well as cosmetic edits. In particular, at Step 2, if CAP identifies additional changes to the Probation, Dismissal, and Academic Standing, CAP should consult with Records and Registration, Academic Dismissal Committee and other relevant stakeholders to approve the proposed changes.

Testimony Tier: Tier I, provided no significant changes to the policies are required.

- The issue requires minimal testimony from the campus community.
- The assigned council or committee should consult with relevant stakeholders before preparing the final recommendation, but there is no need for surveys or open fora.

Timeline: CAP should make a Final Recommendation to Steering by October 15, 2025. If testimony is sought, in the submission of the final recommendation CAP should note the stakeholder groups, number of persons responding, and summary of testimony collected.

TCNJ Governance Processes

Step 1–Steering issues a charge

Step 2-Governance prepares a Preliminary Recommendation

Once the appropriate standing committee or council has received the charge, it should start by collecting data needed to make a preliminary recommendation. It should receive input from affected individuals and all relevant stakeholder groups prior to making a preliminary recommendation. For issues that have broad implications or that affect a large number of individuals, initial testimony should be solicited from the campus community at large. For some issues, sufficient initial testimony may come from input through committee membership or solicitation from targeted constituent groups. When, in the best judgment of the committee, adequate clarity of the principles contributing to the problem are known, a preliminary recommendation should be drafted and disseminated to the campus community.

Step 3–The Relevant Stakeholders provide Testimony

Once a preliminary recommendation has been completed, the standing committee or council should seek testimony from the campus community. The testimony should be gathered in accordance with the Testimony Tier (see below) assigned to the issue by Steering.

For issues that require public testimony from the campus community, the chair of the standing committee or council should approach the president of the appropriate representative bodies to schedule the next available time slot at a meeting of that body.

Testimony should be gathered in a way that allows stakeholders to weigh in fully on the issue. Members of the standing committee or council that wrote the preliminary recommendation should be present to hear and record the testimony.

Step 4–Governance prepares a Final Recommendation

Once the standing committee or council has received appropriate testimony, it should revise the preliminary recommendation into a final recommendation. Once the final recommendation is complete, the standing committee or council should use sound judgment to determine whether or not more public testimony is required. If, in its feedback to the original preliminary recommendation, a stakeholder representative body requests to review an issue again, the committee or council is bound to bring it back to that body. If a full calendar year has passed since the formal announcement of the preliminary recommendation, the committee must re-submit a preliminary recommendation to the campus community. When the committee or council has completed the final recommendation, it should forward it to the Steering Committee. The final recommendation should be accompanied by a cover memo that summarizes the initial charge, how testimony was gathered and the nature of that testimony, and how the committee responded to that testimony, including a description of how the preliminary recommendation evolved as a result of testimony.

Step 5–Steering considers the Final Recommendation

Step 6–The Provost and/or President and Board consider the Final Recommendation

Step 7–Steering notifies the Campus Community Testimony
